

A teacher cannot teach until a willing student appears.

Although we are all forever teachers and forever students of life, we must respect that a student will only learn when they themselves embrace the learning opportunity that is on offer.

Tanya Curtis

Fabic Behaviour Specialist, Founder and Director