

EDUCATIONAL ASSESSMENT

Educational assessments, also known as achievement tests, measure a person's actual age level learning achievements and academic skills based on age-equivalent tasks presented. This will highlight the actual educational development and how it directly influences a person's experience in a learning environment.

The report resulting from this assessment builds the foundation for an individual learning plan and can provide greater understanding of why certain non-preferred or unwanted behaviours are being used across learning environments.

An Educational Achievement Assessment brings insight to an individual's academic strengths and weaknesses. The information obtained supports program modification that will assist a person to reach and live their full potential.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS?

- Being assessed for listening, speaking, reading, writing, comprehension, mathematics and more
- To determine the need for specific individualised support across learning environments, whether that person appears to be behind or more advanced than their same-aged peers
- Particularly useful for those experiencing non-preferred or unwanted behaviour impacting their learning experience as well as those who are experiencing difficulties responding to the academic demands of their educational facility.

OUTCOME

- A detailed report containing the information and insights on the current learning achievement which is directly influenced by what a person has learned to date
- This information forms the backbone for a personalised and effective Individual learning plan

WHAT'S INVOLVED?

- Up to three interviews – with the client, legal guardian, carer or teacher
- Up to four assessment sessions
- Report writing
- Feedback session to discuss the practical recommendations

Test administered:

- Weschler Individual Achievement Test (WIAT-III)

HOW LONG DOES IT TAKE?

It takes four to six weeks from the first meeting until you receive the final report.
